

Merchants See Brisk Demand For Sales Help

Retail merchants are rapidly re-evaluating their specifications for sales help according to a special study made by Leo J. Allard, placement manager of the State Employment Service...

The Employment Service reports that demand for sales help is expected to be brisk during September, October, November and December. More than 300 workers will be registered at the Employment Service according to Allard.

Employers who are realizing that the demand for sales help is increasing are now willing to accept women on a part time basis as well as a full time basis. One local merchant has placed an order with the Employment Service for women with aptitude for sales for the store he is opening during the busy period of Monday nights.

YOUNG WORKERS who have either sales training, experience, or aptitude are needed for part or full-time work. Allard said a variety of openings are listed to aid persons in finding the particular job for which they are best suited. Wages up to $50 per week are offered for saleswomen with certain experience.

FOR ANY INDIVIDUAL who is uncertain about the type of work for which he is best suited for, the Employment Service has developed some tools which are valid aids in this area. For instance, one applicant recently had no idea whether he had potentialities for sales or, for that matter, in any field. As a result of aptitude tests and an interview, the individual had more of a basis for making a decision and was placed in a job in which he has a better than average chance of being successful and happy.

SAVE EXPERT ENTAILS VAULT at Oneida National Bank and Trust Company's new Oneida Sq. branch which will open Sept. 17. It is Sam Krossberg, Clinton, Ohio.

Rapid Progress Made On Bank Branch Job

Remodeling of the new Oneida Sq. branch of the Oneida National Bank and Trust Co., 324-26 Genesee, scheduled for completion Sept. 17, is progressing rapidly, it was announced today by Charles W. Hall, president.

Meanwhile remodeling of the second floor of the Home Dairy Building at 134 Bleecker, to be used as the bookkeeping department of the main office of the bank is nearing completion and will be ready for use Sept. 10. A large vault has been installed in the Oneida Square branch and it will have facilities for nearly 600 safe deposit boxes, with adjoining coupon booths. All operations for banking purposes will be on the first floor, while the basement will be devoted to the main stock room.

The Harvey Construction Company is the general contractor for the branch bank. The vault was purchased by the Diebold Vault Co., Marion, Ohio.

WILBERT T. ROBERTS will be county manager of the Oneida Square branch. Herbert C. Clark will supervise the personal loan and customer credit department. Miss Shirley Hinkston will be in charge of the tellers both in the interest and commercial departments. All told there will be 12 persons on the staff at the new branch.

In addition to attractive interiors the architects have planned there, a large parking lot will be maintained and a drive-in teller facility opened, with entrance on Genesee and exit on State St. Vault alarm will be connected with the police station, the same as protect the other areas of the bank.

MODERN FACILITIES are being prepared in the Home Dairy Building for the new bookkeeping department which will be connected with the main bank offices by a tunnel system to expedite checks and other records back and forth. Augustus Miller Inc., is general contractor.

Twenty-eight employees of the bank will be moved to the bookkeeping section across the street, including five analysts and 14 operators, along with nine other employees. Five new Burroughs machines will be installed to take care of expanding business of the bank.

As a result of moving the bookkeeping department from the main building, the second floor of the main office will be devoted exclusively to customer service. Other operations will be moved to the third and fourth floors.

Service-Is Rotary Hallmark, Newspaper Executive Says

Vocational service is the hallmark of Rotary the Utica Club was told today by Joseph Abey, circulation manager of the Reading, Pa., Eagle Times.

Speaking at the club's luncheon at the Utica this noon, Abey who is taking the 30th annual convention of The Observer-Dispatch told Utica Rotarians, "It is the service-a Rotarian renders to society through his job, his occupation and his vocation."

Abey believes, "It rests on the conception of seeking first to give the best possible service, not to make the highest possible profit. It is the side of Rotary which starts on Monday morning at 9 a. m. and goes on until closing time at the end of the week."

The speaker feels that the many services given by Rotarians in their vocations that the average club member may "miss the main show and see only the parade."

IN DISCUSSING the profit motive Abey quoted the late George Lorimer, Saturday Evening Post editor, as saying, "It is good to have money and things that money can buy, but it is good to check up once in a while to make sure we haven't lost—the things that money can't buy."

Crusade Needs Big Boost Area Units to Seek Funds to Beam Truth to Soviet

The Freedom Scroll may be dispensed with—but Radio Free Europe will get a bigger boost than ever from the Crusade for Freedom as planned for 1951. Leo Meagher, chairman for this four-county area, said today.

Plans are under way for the setting up of units in the various communities of Oneida, Herkimer, Fulton and Montgomery Counties, to carry on an aggressive crusade for Freedom, the main purpose of which is to provide facilities by which Radio Free Europe can advance the cause of democracy and expose the traitors and the quibblers, the spies and the cheaters working in countries behind the Iron Curtain.

Meagher emphasized the difference between Yalta of America—supported by the national budget to spread the word, music and culture of America in ways that within the international protocol and the Crusade for Freedom to supply funds for extending the work of Radio Free Europe not bound by protocol and therefore can broadcast messages behind the Iron Curtain which the Voice of America could not do under international rules.

UNDER THE RIGHTS of freedom of speech, RFE can broadcast material which could be classified as "too hot to handle" for Voice of America. Meagher said meetings are planned for early organization of committees to conduct the crusade to be conducted late in September.

Instead of signing a scroll as last year, those who contribute to the crusade will be given a membership card bearing their name. Radio Free Europe maintains transmitters now in Holzkirchen and Frankfurt Germany. The Frankfurt station beams truth into Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Rumania and Bulgaria to counteract the propaganda of Russia.

For 11 1/2 hours each day, Czechoslovakia is bombarded by a barrage of words from Holzkirchen, about 15 miles southeast of Munich. The station that is about three times as strong as the strongest United States commercial transmitter.

Radio Free Europe's present program is in its worst light. Its two stations broadcast active, vivid, exposure, show disintegration and confusion among the Communist leadership and their puppets. They identify the spies and informers by name; report on persons who have disappeared; send messages from newspapers; speak RFE propaganda and spread news the Soviet would rather not have known.

They keep alive the beloved folk music, the literature, the religion and history which the Communist rulers have sealed their enslaved peoples. PROGRAMS ARE WRITTEN and delivered in the idiom of those to whom the broadcast is directed. The programs are written mostly by exiled patriots of Iron Curtain lands, who know best what must be told and how it would be told. Each program is geared to tested psychological warfare technique.

The 1951 George Foster Peabody Award was given to Radio Free Europe for its outstanding work in fostering international understanding. Support was given to RFE last year by 16 million Americans. As chairman of the crusade, Gen. Lucius D. Clay, has stressed the fact that the programs of RFE are written by native Czechs, Slovaks, exiles and recent escapees from behind the Iron Curtain.

"It is Czechs talking to Czechs in terms understandable," said General Clay. "They expose the months ago, when they moved to North Brookfield. Mrs. Fallon was a member of St. Bernard's Church and its Rosary Society, Waterville.

Mother Passes Fred Bennett, 118 Main St., New York Mills, was called to Providence R. 1 last night by the death of his mother yesterday in New York City.

5 Injured As 2 Autos, Truck Collide

Five persons were injured and one remained in the hospital as a result of a collision of two cars and a tractor-trailer early last night in Route 5, a short distance west of the New Hartford State Police station. John Sears, 77, of 2805 Gordon, remained in Paxton Hospital with increased abrasion and shock. His condition was reported as good today.

Frederic R. Clark for facial lacerations and Thomas Allen, 77, of 2912 Turner St., Philadelphia, his brother-in-law, suffered two fractured ribs. Allen, a Herkimer native and former fire chief, has been visiting his brother, Adam, Herkimer newspaperman, and his sister, Mrs. Casper Haller, Richfield Springs.

Long a resident of Philadelphia, he has been a member of the Common Council there as well as serving several terms in Pennsylvania Legislature. Gerald Bassett, 38, of 1024 S. Townsend St., Syracuse, driver of one of the cars, has a laceration of the left arm and Robert Curry, 25, of 310 John St., Syracuse, a passenger in the Bassett car, was shaken up.

Trooper W. D. Berry said Allen was driving out of Seneca Inn parking lot in his 1950 Ford sedan with Mr. and Mrs. Bassett as passengers. Allen turned east and struck the eastbound tractor-trailer operated by Robert Nyeles, 37, of Portland, Me. The Allen car bounced off the tractor's left front tire and into the path of a westbound 1947 Oldsmobile sedan operated by Bassett. The Allen and Bassett cars were badly damaged.

Reports filtering out of the slave countries indicate that RFE is slugging home its message. A wealth of letters and information to form the basis of broadcasts of warning has been smuggled out of the Communist confines and into Radio Free Europe. Considering asserts "The Communist radio in East Germany announced not long ago, in violent terms, that all German employees of Radio Free Europe would be exiled as 'vercriminals' when the Communists liberate Western Germany."
