DEMOCRATIC FIGHT IN THIRTEEN WARDS

Patten Forces Made Their Principal Fight in the Fifteenth Ward-They Were Supposed to Be Strong in then-Curtis F. Alliaume. Whitestown and Boonville.

In thirteen out of the fifteen wards of the city the Democratic machine was arrayed to-day against the forces llams, Joseph G. Roth. of State Committeeman Harry S. Patten. In the Second and Ninth wards there were no Patten tickets in the trict, Charles J. Amrhein, field and the machine met with no jolts. But, aside from those two localities, there were patten ballots and Patten workers at every polling place. At Democratic headquarters this noon the leaders were confident of success in every city ward, but not so : sure of winning in the country. They admitted that Patten might make a strong showing in Whitestown and in Boonville. In the latter town Patten has had the assistance of Charles Kilkenny, who has had a contract for repairing a State road lately. It is said that on the strength of getting this job from State Engineer Skene, Kilkenny has put his shoulder to the Patten wheel in his home town. Boonville, with considerable success.

This fact caused the local Democrate of the organization to denounce Mr. Skene for playing politics with his office. It was also charged that Patten was using money freely and the opposition was gleeful over the fact that some of their own men had suc- tend State Convention-Thomas A ceeded in getting some cash out of the Mortimer, Joseph W. On the Eleventh ward Patten ballot the name of E. J. Fenton appears as a delegate to the county convention. They denounce Mr. Patten's lieutenants in the various wards in loud and Vigorous language, calling them "sore heads" and other uncomplimentary names. Among the men who have arrayed themselves—under the Patten banner are former Cky Engineer Chapman L. Johnson and E. D. Bri denbecker and they are now regarded as traitors by the Beardsley crowd. County Chairman August said to-day that he believed the or ganisation would win in all parts of the city, though he added that Pometimes meet with surprises." admitted that in some of the towns particularly Whitesboro and Boonville there would be sti contests between the regular and Pasten men.

It was asserted at the Democrati headquarters that Mr. Patten was only making a bluff and that, when he was defeated, he would go to the State convention with the plan that he had been cheated out of a victory at the prima-

Home Phone Men Have Organized : Marching Club.

The Sherman Scouts is the name of the newest Republican campaign club, For Delegate to Attend Twenty- and it is composed of men employed by the Home Telephone Company. The club, which was formed at a meeting held last evening, will be uniformed and will be commanded by Frank S. Judson, who was chosen captain. William Fox was elected lieutenant and Floyd Schupp secretary and treasurer. The club will have about 50 members. A drill was held last evening and the club will meet every Monday evening. Captain Judson served for 13 years in the Twenty-second regiment of New York City, and was first sergeant in ompany H in that organization. He is now a member of the Forty-fourth Separate Company of this city, and will

PLEASING SHOW AT ORPHEUM Runaway Horse' Funniest Picture Ever Seen There,

Four good sized audiences attended the Orpheum Theater's performances yesterday and by their hearty applause and screams of laughter showed that they were thoroughly Dleased with this week's bill. The two vocal selections by Miss Gurley deserve special mention; first on account of the artistic manner in which they were rendered, and secondly because of the handsome illustrative stereopticon slides which were shown to advantage by the new dissolving machine that has been installed by the Orpheum's management within the 1454 few days. The songs were "Sunbonnet Sue" and "When the Nightingales Are Nesting, Sweet Irene," and no more heautiful views were ever seen at this playhouse. "The Hluebird" was a colored film relating an old fairy tale of Prince Charming and Princess Florine. "Just Plain Folks" was a fural photo-drama somewhat reminiscent of "East Lynne" and met with instant favor with the audiences. The Lion's Bride" is a dramatization tion shown last night was a much more elaborate presentation than could be given on any stage. No exgreat in having every detail perfect, and the two thrilling scenes of the battle with spears and broadswords firing and the den of huge Nubian lions could not have been more realistic. The real lilt of the evening was The Runaway Horse," which was without exception the funniest picture that was ever exhibited here. It closed the show and the audience were still laughing as they passed out of the theater and along the street. A GOOD PLAY SPOILED.

"Boy With the Boodle" Falls Curdle the Blood. The East Side life of New York City s always attractive on the stage when portrayed with anything like realistic skill, but 'The Boy With the Boodle," which was presented yester day afternoon and last night at the Majestic, has just one character that is really typical of the great East Side of the metropolis. George D. Mackey as Skidoo, the Boy Broker, the leading character, carried the play along with a rush and he was well aided by A. Church as Plug Ugly, and Miss Snyder as Tammany Ann. These players managed to give some East Side flavor to the performance. When the scene was shifted to the Rockles it became melodrama of the impossible kind. The plot was somewhat bewildering to follow, except that the villain a Walt street "financiere," dressed like a country minister of the old style, was trying to steal a gold mine in Nevada, or fitm-flam owner out of it. A silent stage Indian dressed in palamas, who "shoped" the kidnapped women into a convenieat cavern in the wings, in the "wilds Nevada," added come humor to the more lurid scenes. The play would

An Exceptionally Good Show a mit Park This Week.

A vaudeville bill which has not been excelled at Summnt Park this entire season was put on for the first time resterday and will hold the boards until Sunday afternoon next. The arts are all good, which is something that can be said of few vaudeville shows, and the variety is such as to relieve the performances of monotony completely. The music is high class the acrobatic work, feats of strength and tumbling are admirable and the comedy is bright and new. The opening act, by Harry DeMarte, consists of a series of popular, classic and patriotic airs skilfully played on unique instruments, one of which is merely a series of bottles holding varying quantities of water. On this such selections as "America." "Keep Your Eye op the Red, White and Blue," etc., are given with a clearness and fullness of ton which is especially effective in the open air theater. A dulctmer and row of simple bowls, partially filled with water, are also made to give out sweet sounds. DeMarse is followed hy Will and Alice Holland, in a singng, dancing and comedy act, which first class in every feature. two appear in evening dress, that of wood will speak at the Christian and the lady handsomely spangled.
