CHAPMAN LOSES PLEA FOR WRIT

Lawyer Who Presents It Criticized From Bench.

PROSECUTOR CALLS IT ATTACK ON COOLIDGE Next Move Is Motion For New Trial.

New Haven, Conn., March 30.—(AP).—One of three ten-minute efforts proposed by counsel to prevent the hanging of Gerald Chapman on April 6 failed late yesterday when Federal Judge Edwin S. Thomas denied in application for a writ of habeas corpus, raising the constitutional question whether Chapman had a fair trial a year ago in the State Supreme Court. Had the writ been granted Chapman's execution would have been automatically stayed until the Supreme Court of the United States again had passed on the case.

Ray M. Wiley of Springfield, Mass., who presented the petition in behalf of the condemned man, was criticized by State's Attorney Hugh M. Alcorn for statements appearing in the petition which Mr. Alcorn declared "didn't come from a healthy mind."

He called the court's attention to one paragraph which he said contained allegations which were "impertinent and offensive to the president, to the attorney general and the courts which have passed on this case and to me."

The state's attorney who prosecuted Chapman in the Superior Court and has successfully blocked Chapman's moves in higher courts to escape the gallows declared that the counsel for the convicted murderer should be judged in contempt of court and that his disbarment would be moved by the state's attorney were Mr. Wiley a Connecticut lawyer.

In denying the petition, Judge Thomas, who called a special session of the United States District Court to hear the application, said he saw in it "nothing new," since virtually all of the points raised had been passed upon by other procedures.

Claims Trial Was Fair. In reply to Mr. Wiley's contention that Chapman had not had a fair trial, Judge Thomas said that all elements pointed out that the trial had been fair and that the chief justice of the state supreme court had disposed of any unfair aspects in the court's decision written by him.

The next move in the program of the legal offensive of the condemned man's counsel to remove him from the shadow of the gallows is expected to be taken in Hartford where an appearance is to be made in a state court with either a motion for new trial or with an application for a writ of coram nobis.

Mr. Groehl was not present today. Mr. Wiley being the only one of Chapman's legal staff of five present.

Council Call Conference. Hartford, Conn., March 30.—(AP).—Council for Gerald Chapman who is to die April 6, are to meet today in the office of Joseph B. Freeman here to plan the next move, which will probably be in the superior court. It is not expected court action will be taken today, but tomorrow after a day's preparation of facts to be presented, it is presumed an appointment will be made late today with Judge L. P. Waldo Marvin, who is presiding over the criminal court session, now in recess and such motions as have been decided on will be presented tomorrow.
