

HEAT WAVE CONTINUES UNABATED AS STORMS MISS CITY

UTICANS ADJUST THEMSELVES TO TROPICAL HEAT

Forecast Indicates No Let-up in Record-Breaking Weather Over Weekend—Temperature Hits 102 in Afternoon

Uticans may expect to continue using their newly adopted tropical climate today.

When an electrical storm which struck 20 miles northwest of Rochester passed this city far to the north about midnight, hope of an immediate end of the three-day heat wave was lost.

The forecast is still "continued fair and warm" through tomorrow. If it continues much longer Uticans will take thermometer readings of 102 degrees, the peak reached yesterday, as a matter of course.

BREEZE HELPS SOME

A slight breeze made the day more comfortable than its predecessor which set a 104-degree record. Perhaps it was the normal adjustment to the unbroken heat that made Central New Yorkers feel slightly better off yesterday than earlier in the heat spell.

Fortunately the hottest part of the day came after office hours for most people. From 4:30 to 6:45 p. m. the mercury clung tenaciously to 102 degrees. By midnight it had lagged down to 84.

With sweat on their brows and a glazed look in their eyes, and a bump of heat on their foreheads, Uticans dragged themselves home through the blistering hot afternoon hours. Many had called a day earlier and left in search of long-term pleasures. Business was slowed down almost as effectively by the heat as it was by the cold spasms of last winter.

During the peak of yesterday's hot weather, from 2:30 p. m. when the mercury crossed 100 until after 7 p. m. when it fell back below that mark, both pedestrian and motor traffic were at a minimum. Stores were deserted save by weary salespeople and offices were down to slow motion.

Yesterday's high temperatures just go to show the truth of the old saying that you can get used to anything. After the 104-degree readings of Thursday, little attention was paid to thermometers when they went to 102 degrees between 4:30 and 6:45 p. m.

That long unbroken stretch of heat would have had Uticans staggering around in circles any time before Thursday. For up to that time 101 degrees was the all time record for this section. Now it is just a hot spell.

The day started off warmly with 79 at 6:20 a. m. Even as the brief downpour at 7:30 a. m. failed to keep the thermometer down. They rose steadily to reach 90 at 11 a. m., 92 at noon and bounced up to 94 in the next half hour. It was 97 at 2 p. m., 99 plus at 3:30 and in the next 30 minutes the mercury went straight up to 101.

No Proclamations Here

No proclamations from the heat were reported here. Apparently those who came through Thursday standing up can take anything the weather man offers. At Canastota Peter Conrad, an employe of the Tutts Canning Company, that village, toppled over. He was revived and sent home in fairly good condition.

Uticans are bathing more frequently than usual and this, coupled with the use of water to save lawns and flower beds from the drought, boosted water consumption here considerably.

Consolidated Water Company officials said last night their reservoirs hold enough to care for the city's needs even if hot weather should continue for many more days.

The weather bureau official in New York has pointed out the futility of hoping for rain. He argues that rain will only increase the humidity, making the heat wave that much more unpleasant.

The one redeeming feature of the wave has been, he claims, the low humidity which has made for more rapid evaporation of perspiration and constant cooling (73) of the body.

CASH REGISTERS ARE RIFLED AT 2 STORES HERE

'Sharpshooters' Get Total of $47.80 Without Being Spotted

Police believe a couple of "sharpshooters" are operating here.

Cash registers in two downtown chain stores were rifled yesterday afternoon within half an hour.

In the first case $25 was taken and in the second $22.80. In the first case only bills were taken but bills and change disappeared in the second.

It is believed two persons, possibly a man and a woman, did the job. In both cases clerks and customers were in the vicinity.

In the first, two clerks were nearby and did not notice anyone near the cash register. Suddenly they saw the drawer open and all the bills missing.

In the second case, one clerk said her back had been turned on the cash register for about two minutes. Other clerks in the vicinity noticed nothing unusual but later recalled a man about 45-50, unshaven, having demanded her attention seeking to buy an unusual size of stocking. She advanced the idea that there was a girl or woman in the vicinity at the time.

Police believe that possibly the woman is dressed to look like saleswomen and really operates on the cash registers. Detectives Fennell and Buckley are working on the case.

GREET'S FIANCEE WITH A KISS

Dr. F. J. Douglas Names His Vacancy Committee, Begins Intensive Drive

Petitions designating Dr. Fred J. Douglas as the Republican nominee for member of Congress from the 33rd District will be in circulation today.

With announcement yesterday by the Doctor Douglas for Congress Campaign Committee of the committee of 154 men women to fill vacancies—the campaign opened.

Letters have been sent out over the signature of William Ross Lee as chairman of the Douglas committee, to the 120 Herkimer County committeemen and women and the 320 committee members of Oneida County.

In connection with the drive Doctor Douglas wrote a letter to County Chairman William S. Murray, expressing his views on the principles and aims of a congressional platform and attacking the Democratic platform and administration.

Doctor Douglas expressed his thanks to the Republican organization for its endorsement of his candidacy, and said in part:

"To my mind, the plain implication of the entire Democratic platform is complete renegeation and control over every phase of human endeavor in this country."

It means if it means anything at all, that the energy and initiative of our people, which from the beginning of this nation have aided in developing it into the greatest and most benign government in the history of the world, are to be completely submerged and the government itself is to hereafter completely dominate the affairs of every citizen of this great nation.

Every citizen of this great nation, who has any sense, should be a Republican. The Republican platform is a renegeation of the republic as designed by the founders, a renegeation of the system of government under which we and our forefathers have lived for almost 150 years."

PWA to Employ Relief Workers in New Poland Announced by Roosevelt

Washington—UP—A new public works policy, embracing projects capable of absorbing the greatest number of persons eligible for or obtaining work-relief from WPA developments, was disclosed yesterday by President Roosevelt.

Definitely linking WPA and PWA, it was described by PWA officials as favoring small and primarily relief projects rather than heavy construction, such as the Triborough Bridge in New York.

The President said at a press conference that Col. Horatio B. Hackett, assistant PWA administrator, had handed him yesterday a list of new PWA developments calling for allotments of $50 million dollars but he said he had ordered the projects checked to determine the extent to which relief workers could be used.

The more work-relief individuals a project will absorb, Mr. Roosevelt said, the better will be its chance of approval.

PWA officials said they thought the new policy would delay the start of their program, although they had no estimate as to how long the checking process would require.

Mr. Roosevelt asserted, however, that he expected to begin approving projects within a week and that most of the PWA program should be under way by the fall.

They added that the would have the effect of their program largely to care for small schools, sewer systems, light systems, etc.

A few hours before the execution James Morrison, confessed the crime to officers. He said he wielded the axe that killed the white woman as well as her 1-year-old daughter, Ruby, during a robbery at the woman's home.

The Press Parade

By David H. Beetle

It has been a busy week. We spent most of it trying to decide whether to apply for a job on an Alaskan paper or to settle down locally as a Stanley under.

We did, however, find a few moments to reflect at the propriety of a vicinity Township Club sacking in Paradise Park.

And to express surprise at finding the Polonaise Club meeting in mid-summer.

The week also brought the thought that the city should allow a few more obnoxious permit motorists to drive along North Genesee Street at 45 miles an hour.

And the unauthenticated information that with some of the slower railroads, it is cheaper to keep traveling than it would be to stay in one place and hire a room.

And extreme wonder as to why the newspapers have not yet referred to the Norwich kidnaping action as the "Lochaber case."

There was also the belated note that one of the vicinity high schools had two valentines. What listen to the valentines and at one graduation! We'll stay home first.

And the more recent observation that New York City is in a fair way to solve its unemployment problem by putting most everybody on a grand jury.

Plus the thought that one way to keep out of trouble is to alternate only New York State afflictions.

As well as the news that now that Landon favors both social security and soil conservation payments, we wouldn't be surprised to see him settle for a cabinet post in the present administration.

And the news that Post-Rural Spring has been graded the dullest autumn since 1933 for stamp collectors.

And finally the rumor that with so many predictions about the breaking up of the Solid South, F.D.R. has actually been heard humming: "Is It True That You'll Never Drive?"
