When it comes to guiding us toward spiritual wealth, a clergyman has no peer. □ But clergymen are people. And when it comes to financial guidance, we're the people to come to. At Marine Midland we know how to help you solve the financial problems everybody faces. For instance, we'll finance a clergyman's car so he can tend to his far flung flock. And we'll advise him how to best convert his modest income into some of the modest worldly comforts necessary even to a man of the cloth. □ People are people, no matter what they do. We knew it. That's why you should come to us for financial guidance.
